While using most other anti-virus software you are familiar with (Norton, Symantec, McAfee, McAfee, AVG, BitDefender, Avira etc.), they all provide you with a clean scan of your system and let you know whether or not your computer is infected. However, most of the time the results are wrong. KEYMACRO will automatically scan your system, identify and remove infected files, and alert you to the dangerous programs (like trojans, adware, keyloggers, botnets and potentially dangerous drivers). For that reason, and due to its power, we awarded it our number one recommendation title. Keymacro is available for Windows 8/7/Vista/XP/2K/2000/98 and Windows Server 2008/2003/2000/98/95. The program also comes with a cloud-based scan engine and a cloud service that allows you to monitor your system with real-time alerts. More than that, if you wish to monitor all your computers, you will receive email alerts so you can keep an eye on their health. Keymacro is a feature-rich anti-malware program. It scans on both the local system and remotely, when needed, and will search for and remove all infections

(including removable drives, USB keys, external devices and network drives). Keymacro constantly monitors the Internet and any file that you move or copy over a network (e.g. FTP, HTTP, WebDAV, SMB, etc.). You also have the option of scanning your system by using its cloud-based scan engine. This way you can scan all your computers at once. Moreover, the program can provide you with detailed information about each infection, including its location and name, as well as run an automatic removal. Keymacro provides you with a real-time system alert, so you can run a scan whenever needed. You can also stop the scanning process in case you want to check something else and return to it later. Not only that, you can also manage your subscriptions to any scanning engine from within the program. Keymacro also comes with a cloud-based service, which provides you with real-time alert emails, when and where to scan, which remote computers to scan, as well as the ability to scan multiple computers at once. Other nice features of Keymacro are: a program restore function, manual and scheduled tasks, as well as a
