Francisco A. Scarano is the author of We aim to deliver the downloading e-book in. We provide the e-book in different file forms, like pdf, epub, txt and more. It can be read on Mac, Windows, iPhone, Android phones, Ipad, tablet and other. We do not sell or share it elsewhere. This is freely distributed among students and scholars with the goal of promoting education and learning. This isn't some task-oriented project. This is one of the basic tools of knowledge exchange and the promotion of quality. It's like The Matrix. If you buy it, you have successfully attained the chosen destination.

Nobody can prevent you from being there. You are there. You belong there. And you're there.

Once you reach the chosen destination, it doesn't matter what the new reality is. There is nothing to unlearn. Nothing to rid yourself of. Nothing to forget. You are already there. Your very being has absorbed the new environment, assimilated it into itself. And you are in perfect sync with your new environment. You are now completely congruent with your new environment. So it is said, so it is done. But is it true?

Or are we only stating the obvious? Of course we all know this. We all believe it. But is it true? If it is, then why do we still buy media that tells us the opposite? Why do we still hear about people who "wish they could go back in time"? If we have chosen our reality by buying a media product, why do we need to re-learn it? If we are already there, then why do we need a new experience? And if we are there, why do we have to keep buying new media products?
