now, you can download the program from the website, which i linked above. there are two different versions of the program. i use the "full" version. it comes with a code reader and can read out your dtcs, information, and can program new codes. it also comes with an adjustable sensor. the adjustable sensor is great for cars with an obdii connector on the passenger side (not the steering wheel side). in my case, my obdii connector was on the passenger side, so this was very helpful. this is where i got mine from: amazon.com once you get the files, you have to unzip them. for this, you can use winzip or 7zip. if you use winzip, you'll have to right click on the file, and click on "open" then you'll have to "zip" the files, and name it something like vag-can commander 1.4.zip. finally, upload the unzipped files to your computer. you can upload them by going to the website, and clicking "download a file" choose your file, and hit download. for the usb-can adapter and code reader, it's the same process. zip them up, upload them, and rename them to the same thing as the zip file. once you've uploaded everything, you should have a folder with the files. go back to the website, and click on "installation" then just choose the files you have on your computer, and install them. then you should have a folder that has both the file and the installer. in the folder, you should have another folder. this is where the program installs itself. you can choose to run it as a program (right click on it, and click on "run as a program") or you can just click on "run" and it should start up. you'll have to put in your serial number if you want to use the "full" version of the program. there's two different versions. you can find your serial number by going to the website, and clicking on "order a program" then you can choose the version you want. once you've installed it, click on "start" to start the program. 5ec8ef588b
